To Whom It May Concern:

Global Thermal Solutions (GTS) is a fully trained and authorized SSi Solutions Provider. As such, GTS has received and continues to receive training from SSi relative to the operation, calibration, and installation of all SSi components and software. GTS is capable of implementing customer solutions using any and all SSi products and has the full support of the SSi team.

GTS' annual training gives them the knowledge and ability required to properly calibrate all SSi instrumentation according to SSi recommendations and documentation. As a result all SSi warranties supplied with each SSi component and/or software remain valid and in-force.
